"Li the last year," he says in his report,

"St. Louis has been going through an attack of monomaniacal frenzy, of which the central idea may be represented by the words 'New St. Louis.' "Let us heartily hope that we may never ecover from this malady, but may see it grow in intensity as time rolls on-here is one instance in which the disease is best not recovered from. But after we have cleansed the city and inaugurated the many civic improvements and reforms now prosed, shall we have realized the ideal of the City Beautiful?

"A marble mansion does not mean a home beautiful because of its lofty halls, picturecovered walls and expensive furnishings; it must be impregnated with the spirit of kindliness and mutual love, particularly toward the weaker members of the familywithout these essential elements of true home life all the exterior beauty will resolve itself into glittering sham.

Problems of Charities. "The broad problems of charities and corrections are to-day to be considered from a scientific as well as an ethical standpoint, both blending in a harmonious effort in the direction of finding proper ways and adequate means for the care of the delinquent, defective, sick and indigent members of society. A community, to approach the standard of perfection, must show an bonest and unremitting effort to solve these problems, and to prevent the numerical growth of the dependent and afflicted classes, including the insane.

"The careful avoidance of deteriorating actors entering into the life of the individual can only be assured by a slow process of education. The municipality may exert its influence for good in several ways, chiefly toward creating conditions favorable for the healthful development of the child among the poor. First of all should be mentioned the permanent playgrounds as a highly beneficial agency, as they tend to develop self-respect, self-control and respect for others. The municipality should insist in the future on the erection of nothing but model tenements, with a view of bettering the child's home environment. A good beginning could be made here by legislating out of existence the Ashley building. "A further step toward prevention can be taken by improving methods of municipal ing-room in the launary, and the addition of care of homeless children. Aid should be extended to home-finding societies, which

During the year 441 patients were admitted, which, adder to the patients remaining at the end of the last fiscal year, makes the total number treated, 1,110, of which 619 were men and 491 women. Of these, 32 men and 42 women were negroes. There were 14 men and 17 women discharged as recovered, and 42 men and 28 women left the asylum very much improved. There were 69 men and 48 women discharged as unimproved. Four inmates, three of whom were trusties, escaped and ere still at large. There were 112 deaths in the year, 70 men and 40 women. The predominating causes of death were: Dementia paralytica, 40; senile dementia, 18; purmonary tuberculosis, 12. The higher death rate, 10 per cent of patients treated, is accounted for by the addition to the population of 67 patients suffering from dementia parasytica, or paresis, and 56 suffering from senile dementia.

One death, that of a Jewess, was caused by debility, brought about by her refusal REPUBLIC SPECIAL. to take a mouthful of food in a period of 30 months, during which time she was fed through a tube.

Low Rate of Recoveries. The unusually low rate of recoverles is accounted for by the admission of a number of irrecoverable cases, afflicted with senile dementia, epilepsy, dementia para-lytica and imbecility. The year was remarkably free from un pleasant incidents and accidents, not even an attempt at suicide being noted. The most important innovation of the year, Doctor Runge says, was the permanest assignment of two members of the Fire Department to duty at the institution.

The discovery of the fire in the laundry on February 20, while the weekly entertainment was in progress, brought forcably home to Doctor Runge a realization of the inadequate provisions at the disposal of the management for a prompt and successful evacuation of the main buildings in the event of a fire or similar emergency. He secommends that the amount necessary for the erection of sultable exposed fire escapes should be allowed immediately. The fire escapes, he suggests, should be arranged so as to communicate with the windows of the rooms of the attendants on each floor, and screens they can readily be used as means of egress.

Improvements of the Year. Among the more important improvements of the year was the erection of a new drya glass porch to the cottages, offering the patients the benefits of a sunroom at all would relieve the House of Refuge. This seasons of the year. Many minor improvepaint have out the property in fairly good shape. Doctor Runge hopes that the com-ing year will see the much-needed electric light and power plant installed and in working order.

The appropriations he recommends for the coming fiscal year are: Salaries, $35,500; groceries, $65,000; dry goods, $11,000; drugs, $1,500; forage, $2,500; labor, $3,000; entertainments, $600; minor repairs, improvements and furnishings, $9,659; boilers, $5,000; total, $133,739. In conclusion, Doctor Runge commends the members of the medical staff, office force and employes for the faithful service rendered, and particularly praises the work of Doctor Charles H. Thierry, who resigned as assistant superintendent to enter upon the general practice of medicine.

Real Estate Agent Surprised Him the Day Before Minnie Mitchell's Disappearance.

LODGERS WILL BE QUESTIONED.

Two of Them to Be Taken Back to Chicago From Other Cities-Fugitive May Have Surveyed Scene of Murder.

Chicago, Aug. 11 .- An important development in the Bartholin-Mitchell murder mystery was made to-day when it was d'acovered that Bartholin had been surprised July 30 while standing at the celtar grave of his murdered mother by a real estate agent. Peter Van Vlissingen, who holds a mortgage on Mrs. Hartholin's home, and who sent his agent to the Calumet property to appraise it the afternoon of July 20, furnished the police with the information about Bartholin working on the grave of his mother.

The agent called and rang the front-door bell repeatedly. No one answered and he went to the rear of the house and looked through a basement window.

There he saw a man standing in one corner looking at the floor, apparently abscrbed in thought. Suddenly the man in the basement looked up and saw the agent peering in. A moment later Bartholin came to the rear door and asked the agent what he wanted. The latter replied that he wanted to see Mrs. Bartholin. Bartholin told the agent his mother was in Milwaukee, and she would not return for several days. Shortly after this conversation he was seen to leave the house and the same evening he called at Minnie Mitchell's house. The couple departed together and the girl did not return.

Inspector Hunt, when shown an interview with E. O. Hunter, at Toledo, said that Oscar Thompson, a former lodger in the house, and who is now under arrest, denied having told Hunter that William Bartholin had left the city to be married.

The inspector further stated that Hunter will be brought to this city, together with Milton L. R. Edwards, another roomer in the Bartholin house, who is now in Denver. Late developments to-day indicate that Bartholin may have made a careful survey of the field where Minnie Mitchell's body and clothing were found. William Waldrop told the police that on Wednesday, July 30, Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 11.-Deputy he met William Bartholin at Seventy-fourth Inited States Marshal T. H. McKenna of and State streets, within a few feet of the spot where the dead body of the young man's fiancee was found.
